

Bell upon bell

Bell upon bell,
and it's already ringing at school, teachers and children
let's sing together.

Christmas, Christmas,
how wonderful it is to study, when everyone at school knows how to respect each other.

My teacher always helps me,
I try even harder,
and between laughter and notebooks time flies by without a second thought.

Christmas, Christmas,
you can already feel it as we walk, though the school hallways I see lights twinkling.

Today we bring our homework, and also a Christmas carol;
my friends and I sing them together.

Christmas, Christmas,
rest is almost here,
but first at school
I want to pass my exams.
