

DON QUIXOTE AND THE INVISIBLE GIANT

(Inspired by Don Quijote de la Mancha by Miguel de Cervantes)

"I will become a brave knight and help everyone!"

"I'm not a knight... I'm just me."

"You are brave, smart, and important just as you are!"

In a small village in Spain, there lived a kind man named Don Quixote.

you can't play with us!

They saw children playing. A boy in a wheelchair was trying to play with them. the children were laughing at him.

I'm very sad!

"I see a giant! the giant of exclusion!"
"This giant is one of the most dangerous!"

The children stopped laughing. They made space for him.

The children learned something important: Being a hero means including everyone.
